

Terry A. Barclay
President and CEO
Inforum

Terry A. Barclay was appointed President and CEO of Inforum in 2001. In this position, Barclay oversees the only professional organization in Michigan – and one of a few in the country – that combines strategic connections, proven professional development programs, a respected forum for new ideas, and original research to accelerate careers for women and boost talent initiatives for companies.

Inforum's programs serve a broad range of professional women in different stages and types of careers – from emerging leaders, to high-potential executives, tech entrepreneurs, veterans and for-profit corporate board leaders. Inforum also conducts and publishes research on women's leadership influence in Michigan.

In 2011, Inforum launched inGAGE™, its strategy to position Michigan as the Midwest hub for high-growth tech women entrepreneurs. inGAGE™ supports new and emerging second-stage entrepreneurs to scale their businesses and raise capital. In 2016, Inforum launched inSTEM, an initiative aimed at closing the STEM gender gap by engaging more women business leaders working in STEM fields as role models and mentors in existing local STEM programs.

Barclay is a trusted ally and sought-after resource in helping companies advance gender diversity to build inclusive work environments. She is an innovative thought leader on the topics of women's leadership and talent engagement in companies and the entrepreneurial ecosystem. Barclay is the author of several articles and co-author of original research including the biennial Michigan Women's Leadership Index, now in its twelfth year.

Barclay currently serves on the boards of Cranbrook Institute of Science; The Nature Conservancy of Michigan; Detroit Institute of Arts Diversity Committee; and ION. She is also an active angel investor in Michigan-based start-ups as a member of the Michigan Angel Funds I and II.

Prior to Inforum, Barclay was the founder and president of Operation ABLE of Michigan; served as senior vice president and chief external affairs officer for Hospice of Michigan; and was vice president of university relations for Oakland University.

Barclay earned a B.A. degree from the College of Wooster in Ohio and a Master's degree from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.