

Accelerate Executive Talent. Elevate Valuable Leaders.

Founded in 1962, Inforum is the only professional organization in Michigan – and one of a few in the country – that combines strategic connections, proven professional development programs, a respected forum for new ideas, and original research to accelerate careers for women and boost talent initiatives for companies.

Leadership programs serve a broad range of women in different stages and types of careers – from nonprofit professionals, to emerging and rising corporate leaders, tech entrepreneurs, Veterans and corporate board leaders.

Inforum also conducts and publishes original research on women's leadership influence, including the Michigan Women's Leadership Index.

Talent is what sets companies apart – especially the ability to recognize and leverage potential. Executive Leadership™ is Inforum's flagship professional development program. Since its launch in 2003, over 1,100 women have graduated.

Executive Leadership is for high-achieving women with the talent and drive to assume more senior and influential roles and prepare to move into the executive ranks. Research shows that career progression often stalls for women at middle management, narrowing a company's pipeline of top leadership and diverse talent.

What Sets Executive Leadership Apart

- Proven curriculum geared towards women with 8-15 years of management experience that delivers proven outcomes.
- Five-month program with 5 instructor-led sessions: virtual and in-person, complemented by self-directed learning.
- Each flight is limited to 28 women, allowing for personalized instruction and focused coaching. Every session is a combination of individual, small and large-group interaction, and hands-on exercises.
- Participants complete a robust 360-degree assessment with feedback from their manager, peers, direct reports and customers that provides a foundation for a personal leadership development plan.
- Three one-on-one sessions with a professional career coach accelerate learning and professional development.
- Top female leaders serve as executive speakers, creating a new experience for participants during select sessions.
- Focused sessions are based on the emotional intelligence competency model and emphasize key factors in leadership effectiveness:
 - self-awareness understanding your emotions, strengths and weaknesses
 - self-management effectively managing motives and regulating behavior
 - social awareness ability to understand others and your organization's culture
 - relationship management ability to get desired results from others and reach personal goals
- Additionally the program focuses on confidence, personal brand and global leadership. It also features a new business, strategic and financial acumen component featuring a robust Harvard Business Review case study.

Tuition: $4,500; employees of corporate investors, $3,900
